

Web text

This is the first thing you say, so is it the most important point to make about yourself, especially as you can work nationally?

Passive language

Based in Auckland, New Zealand, Webhand provides a variety of services to give you a hand with getting your business solutions online.

Whether you have an existing online business solution needing revamping or you are just getting started with establishing yourself online. We can help you to reach your goal.

From recreating your current print based brochure into an online presence to setting up an online shop, discussion forum, bookings and ticketing system, and the list goes on. Our collection of services ensure that your customers have a fantastic online experience when they get to your website.

Our systems give you access to manage your own content, which makes sure your customers always have the latest information on hand, and they are flexible enough to allow for expanding functionality and adding new features as needed with ease.

Your customer may 'see themselves' here, but the list is lost in the rest of the text.

The advantages of using your service aren't immediately obvious before

webhand gets your business online.

Do you have an existing online business presence that needs revamping? Or are you establishing yourself online right now?

When your customers get to your website, we'll ensure that they have a fantastic online experience.

We can give you a hand from start to finish. From choosing your domain name, to designing your website, to hosting your online business.

We can recreate your current print based brochure set up an online shop create a discussion forum provide your bookings and ticketing system and much more

Use our systems to manage your content and guarantee that your customers always have the latest information on hand.

Our solutions are flexible, allowing you to add in new features quickly and easily, as you need them.

after